SISTERS of CHARITY HEALTH SYSTEM

JUNE 2026, ISSUE 29

Red, White and You

A MESSAGE FROM MICHAEL

President & CEO, Sisters of Charity Health System

Every July 4th for 250 years, as a country, we've collectively celebrated the courage to dream of a better future and the collective effort needed to build it.

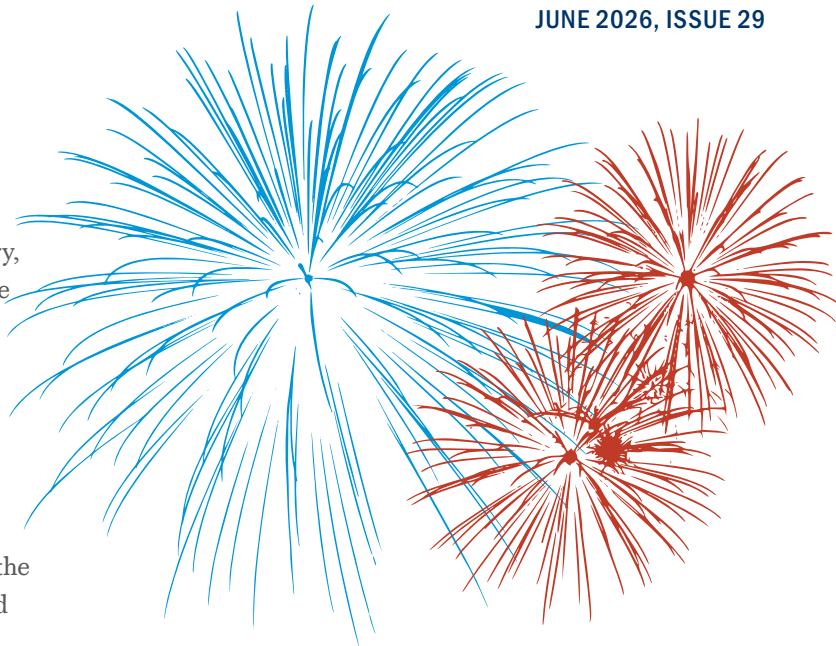

Over the holiday weekend while celebrating our country's 250th anniversary, I found myself reflecting on what independence means, not just as a nation, but as a community bound together by purpose. Freedom is not just the absence of constraint, it is also the presence of possibility and the hope for a better tomorrow.

Just 75 years after the 1776 signing of the Declaration of Independence, the Sisters of Charity of St. Augustine arrived in the United States with a mission that complemented that vision of freedom: to bring healing, hope and compassionate care to all, especially those most in need. Every single day, that is exactly what everyone within the Health System does for the people we serve—the freedom to pursue a full, healthy life.

As we all gathered with loved ones and watched fireworks light up the sky this particularly meaningful 4th of July, I hope you carried with you a sense of pride in what we have built together on top of the foundation the Sisters laid 175 years ago. Our network of services continues to be built with your dedication and your belief that every person deserves to be met with dignity, respect and a better future.

In this month's newsletter, there's an abundance of updates about building a better future and the efforts that are making that happen. Here's a look at just some of what's happening around the Health System that you'll see in this issue:

- St. Vincent Charity Health & Healing Hub – Goodwill recently launched a $40 million campaign to build a 60,000–80,000 sq. ft. Opportunity Center on the Hub in Cleveland's Central neighborhood. The Goodwill Opportunity Center will be anchored by a large grocery store, and bring multiple nonprofit services under one roof.
- Foundation grants – Since relaunching a few months ago, the Sisters of Charity Foundation of Cleveland made its first grants of 2026 by naming 36 recipients of the inaugural Hines Trust Nursing Grants program. The program awards $5,000 annual grants for continuing education in the nursing profession. The Sisters of Charity Foundation of Canton announced $632,127 in Q1 and Q2 Grants, which were awarded to multiple organizations that address the needs of the poor and underserved.

Thank you for your passion and commitment to the individuals and families we support, and for bringing hope and healing to the lives of so many as we all continue to dream of a better future.

Michael

◆ LIGHT OF HEARTS VILLA: Bedford High Students Help with Vincentian Pathways

Restoration — A group of students from Bedford High School recently spent a morning of service on the Vincentian Pathways grounds in June. They helped with weeding, planting and caring for the gardens as restoration efforts continue on this special community space. Their energy, enthusiasm and willingness to serve brought so much life and joy to the grounds. Vincentian Pathways honors the legacy of the Vincentian Sisters while creating a welcoming space for reflection, connection and nature. Thank you to Bedford High School and its students for helping care for this beautiful piece of local history and community.

Creativity in Bloom — Residents at Light of Hearts Villa (LOHV) recently enjoyed a colorful arts and crafts activity, painting flower bowls in vibrant hues and unique designs. Their finished creations are now proudly displayed in the back of the Activity Center, paired with bright butterfly décor to create a welcoming space. The display is a cheerful celebration of creativity, self-expression and the joy that comes from making something beautiful together while brightening the community each day.

Exterior Sign Gets a Fresh New Look — Visitors to LOHV may notice something new out front. This spring, the exterior sign was updated with a refreshed design that better reflects who LOHV is and the services provided (assisted living, memory care and respite care). The previous digital sign technology had become outdated and would have required a significant investment to replace and maintain. This more sustainable solution has a new overlay design that modernizes the look, clearly communicates offerings and makes a brighter first impression. Special thanks to IGS for their partnership and excellent work on the installation.

◆ REGINA HEALTH CENTER: Circle of Abiding Love Celebrates Donors — On June 9, Regina Health Center's supporters were appropriately thanked for their generosity at the Circle of Abiding Love Mass and reception. The event honored those who donated $1,000 or more in 2025. It also recognized those who are in the Regina Society and have made a planned gift, or an endowment gift of $10,000 or more, to Regina Health Center. All Mass intentions that evening were offered for the personal intentions of Circle of Abiding Love invitees. For more information on how you can help care for residents in 2026, contact Director of Major Gifts PJ Reindel at 330.659.5132 or at preindel@reginahealthcenter.org.

Resident Religious Retreat — Members of religious communities and clergy, as well as many lay people, participate in an annual Resident Religious Retreat as part of their commitment to religious life. It's also one more way for Regina Health Center to maintain such observances and traditions for residents to continue to participate in religious life. Thank you to Director of Pastoral Care Mary Takacs for all the detailed work that went into this year's resident retreat on June 3 and to Pastoral Associate Ellen Barber for directing the retreat.

Ashley Cegielski

Congratulations to Regina Health Center June Employee of the Month — Ashley Cegielski. In May, Foundation staff, along with board members David Kaminski and Judge Sara Lioi, participated in the third of 10 volunteer events scheduled to celebrate the 30th anniversary in 2026. The group helped distribute food at CommQuest’s Samaritan’s Table, which provides hot to-go lunches every Thursday to anyone in need. ◆ EARLY CHILDHOOD RESOURCE CENTER (ECRC): Professional Development Conference Brings Early Childhood Community Together — On May 30, ECRC hosted more than 170 early childhood educators and community partners for the Read, Play, Grow Conference, a day of professional development and learning. Keynote speaker Eric Litwin, original author of the Pete the Cat series, energized the crowd with an interactive presentation on using music and movement to create reading-rich environments. His message combined humor and song to show how educators and parents can successfully create joyful reading experiences in classrooms and daily lessons. The conference also featured several engaging breakout sessions, all of which were designed to strengthen educators’ practice and impact. Attendees joined The Play Coaches Dani Svanter and Wendy Turcotte to explore The Power of Play and practical strategies for supporting children’s emotional development. Additional workshops led by Pam Perrino and Laura McFalls provided valuable insights on professionalism and the science of reading.

The conference was made possible through the generous support of community partners, including event sponsors Greater Akron's Unified Learning System, Kaplan Early Learning Company, Barberton Community Foundation and Summit County Public Health. In-kind donors and vendors also helped make the day a success by providing resources, raffle items and opportunities for attendees to connect with services that support children and families. Behind the scenes, ECRC staff worked tirelessly to coordinate speakers, support attendees and ensure the event ran smoothly. Their efforts helped create an experience that left participants energized and equipped with new tools and ideas to bring back to their classrooms. The Read, Play, Grow Conference reflects ECRC's commitment to strengthening early learning across the region. By equipping educators with new knowledge, practical tools and meaningful connections, ECRC helps create high-quality learning experiences that support young children and families and lay the foundation for lifelong success.

Advocating for Young Children and Families in Columbus — ECRC staff recently joined nearly 300 parents, caregivers, children and advocates at the Ohio Statehouse in Columbus for the annual Family Voices at the Statehouse event organized by Groundwork Ohio. Families had the chance to share their experiences directly with state and federal policymakers, highlighting both the challenges and opportunities facing Ohio's youngest children. Conversations focused on issues affecting families every day, including access to affordable child care, housing and food security, maternal mental health, and creating healthy environments where children can thrive. Family Voices at the Statehouse also underscored the importance of investing in young children and families as a strategy for strengthening Ohio's workforce, communities and economy for generations to come. Strengthening early learning and supporting families requires more than direct services; it also requires elevating the voices of those most impacted. Advocacy is a key part of the ECRC mission, helping ensure that policies reflect the real needs of children, families and the early childhood professionals who serve them every day. Thank you to Groundwork Ohio for organizing this important opportunity and to the nearly 50 policymakers and staff members who took the time to listen and engage in meaningful conversations about issues that matter most to Ohio families.

Forging Strong Fathers and Families Month — June is like Christmas at SCCFF because fathers are elevated through its outreach events and media distribution. The annual fatherhood proclamation campaign, a four-month effort, culminates in June with speaking opportunities at monthly county councils in more than half the state, along with several cities, including the state capital, Columbia. These 33 proclamations in 2026 are opportunities to build relationships in each community and will help build capacity for reaching more fathers and their families. In addition to the proclamations in June, SCCFF has released fatherhood PSAs featuring notable South Carolina men. These 60-second reflections on “forging strong fathers” share stories encouraging fathers across the state to be present and engaged. Participants included USC Gamecocks coach Shane Beamer, Senator Tim Scott, USC President Emeritus Harris Pastides, Colonial Life CEO Tim Arnold, former Detroit Tigers catcher Grayson Greiner, former NFL fullback Patrick DiMarco and business leader Matt Vaadi.

Bringing Hope to Hampton County — Hampton County again honored SCCFF on June 8 with its annual fatherhood proclamation and received a commitment from all three South Carolina organizations that Hampton would become a focus of health and healing ministry in a concerted effort. With the combined efforts of SCCFF, Healthy Learners and the Sisters of Charity Foundation of South Carolina, the families of Hampton County will be increasingly strengthened and sustained in 2026.
