A Calling to Care

Mt. Augustine, part of which now houses Regina Health Center Skilled Nursing Rehabilitation & Assisted Living Community, was built as the motherhouse for the Sisters of Charity of St. Augustine and opened in 1957. In the 1980s, the need to expand long-term health care services for the aging religious in Northeast Ohio was identified. The Sisters responded by collaborating with other orders and converting part of the Motherhouse into a state-of-the-art nursing facility. Regina Health Center opened in 1993 as the first collaborative health care facility of its kind in the United States.

Mission in Action

Regina Health Center reflects Catholic Social Teaching by honoring the God-given dignity of each person and recognizing caregiving as a spiritual vocation and expression of Christ's love. Through compassionate, holistic care, the ministry nurtures the whole person—body, mind and spirit—while providing opportunities for prayer, the Sacraments and spiritual support.
