Sharing Resources and Advancing a Legacy of Service

For more than 175 years, the Sisters of Charity of St. Augustine (CSAs) have responded to changing community needs with compassion, innovation and a commitment to serving those most in need.

By stewarding shared resources, fostering collaboration and creating new opportunities for service, the Sisters of Charity Health System guides our family of ministries, programs and initiatives in fulfilling their unique missions while focusing on what matters most: Loving God and loving our neighbor to address unmet needs across Northeast Ohio and South Carolina.

Each ministry has its own distinct mission, programs and leadership. The Health System provides the shared expertise, resources and strategic support so ministries can thrive and expand our overall impact, while collectively carrying forward the Sisters' enduring commitment to compassion, dignity and service.

Shared Expertise and Resources

We provide centralized support across all areas, from executive leadership and strategy to ministry and mission integration, finance and human resources, marketing and communications, fundraising and advancement, technology support, and more.

- Connect and Strengthen — bringing together leaders, expertise and resources across ministries to encourage collaboration, address challenges, strengthen organizational performance, advance a shared mission and integrate our Catholic identity into the work we do.
- Drive Strategic Priorities — guiding and supporting ministries as they plan for the future, strengthen sustainable operations, and develop new programs and opportunities in response to changing community needs.

- Build Partnerships — connecting ministries with community organizations, funders and other partners to expand opportunities and achieve greater collective impact.

Collective Impact

We are dedicated to improving health, addressing community needs and creating pathways to greater well-being. We carry out this work through our direct service provided by our ministries and through grantmaking by our foundations. Together, these efforts address needs across: Family engagement, food security, education and academic success, elder care, health access, homeless medical respite, addiction treatment services, and neighborhood revitalization, providing support, hope and opportunity to individuals, families and communities.
